

WOULD AMEND VOLSTEAD ACT

And Get Revenue of $100,000,000 for Government.

SENATOR CALDER IS PLANNING A MOVE.

New Revenue-Revision Proposed by Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Efforts to amend the pending tax-revision bill to that 2.75 per cent. beer may be sold as a non-intoxicating beverage, are to be made by Senator Calder, Republican, New York, a member of the senate finance committee. It was learned today. Calder's plan provides for the virtual amendment of the Volstead act, which prohibits the sale of beer of 2.75 per cent. alcoholic volume, by the declaration in the revenue bill that such beer is non-intoxicating and subject to a tax of five dollars a barrel. It is estimated that the provision would yield an annual revenue of at least $100,000,000.

Repeal of Tax Law.
Washington, Sept. 5.—Repeal of all income surtaxes above twenty-five per cent., as of January 1, 1922, and of the capital stock tax as of July 1, 1922, were among the new revenue-revision proposals submitted by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to the senate finance committee today.

The house tax bill fixed thirty-two per cent. as the maximum for the proposed elimination of the higher surtaxes. The capital stock tax was retained by it.

Mellon also suggested the retention of the transportation tax including that on the transportation of oil by pipe line which was repealed by the house bill.

ANNUAL SESSION OF THE OHIO CONFERENCE

Methodists Enjoying a Pleading Program at Circleville.

Circleville, Sept. 5.—Visiting clergymen and laymen attending the 110th annual session of the Ohio conference, Methodist Episcopal church, are going to the Logan Elm State park, near here, today.

The Ohio Wesleyan society will enjoy a banquet tonight at the St. Phillips parish house.

Bishop Luther Wilson, New York, is presiding over the conference, which is expected to take action on proposals to admit laymen as voting delegates to the annual conference; to change the ratio of representation by delegates to the general conference and to change the name of the quarterly conference to the "local" conference.

The lay convention will begin here tomorrow.

In Agreement.

Cincinnati, Sept. 5.—Milk producers of Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana, numbering several hundred, yesterday, agreed to market their product in the Cincinnati district on a cooperative basis thus doing away with the middleman. The mutual non-profit plan is to be adopted and the new organization is to be known as the Tri-State Cooperative Milk Marketing association. Farmers are to pool their milk and market it through this association.

Cotton Market.

New York, Sept. 5.—The cotton market had another very active opening today. The first sale of October was at a net decline of 180 points, of 57.50 a bale, but later transactions in that contract, as well as in others, showed that values were inclined to rally, due to rebuying by bulls after a three-cent decline from the top.

To Turn on Gas.

Columbus, Sept. 5.—According to the demands made by Attorney General Price, officers of the Medina Gas & Fuel company today advised him that gas would be turned on immediately at Lima.

NOT BOUND BY MONROE DOCTRINE

Geneva, Sept. 5.—The Chilean delegation to the League of Nations assembly meeting, yesterday issued a statement denying the right of the league to interfere with the Chilean-Bolivian territorial dispute and claiming that such interference would be a violation of the Monroe doctrine.

The Chilean statement called the Chilean-Bolivian dispute "exclusively an American affair." It added that the reference to the Monroe doctrine in article 21 of the league covenant amounted to recognition of the Monroe doctrine as an element of international law.

Bolivia replied to the Chilean statement by saying she is not bound by the Monroe doctrine and that Washington has already notified her that the United States does not object to the league of nations considering the Chilean-Bolivian treaty.

RECOGNITION OF MEXICANS

Reported Negotiations Are Now in Progress.

STORY IS LACKING THE OFFICIAL STAMP

Known That Diplomats Have Been Seeking Way To Break Deadlock Over Treaty.

Mexico City, Sept. 5.—A report was current here today that new negotiations have been opened relative to recognition of the Obregon government by the United States. The report is not officially confirmed.

An Impasse.

Mexico City, Sept. 5.—Although an impasse apparently exists between the Mexican and United States governments on the question of recognition of Mexico, due to the Mexican government's refusal to sign a treaty of amity and commerce as a prior act, expressions of the belief are general in Mexico City that "something is going on behind the scenes." In an attempt to break the deadlock, but at the same time to place neither nation in the light of receding from its original position.

Mexico City newspapers, quoting both American and Mexican sources, assert that a new basis for an interchange of ideas between George T. Sumnerlin, American charge d'affaires, and Honor Paul, Mexican foreign secretary, is being established, although nothing has been given out in official quarters that would clear the situation.

Mr. Sumnerlin, denying announcements in yesterday's newspapers that he had received instructions from Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state, to take up the matter of the recognition of Mexico along new lines, said that as far as he was concerned the question of recognition remained where it had been, and that he had made no representations to the foreign office here.

To Clear Situation.

Much is being made by political observers of the events of the last ten days—the decision of the supreme court on the constitution as it affects oil, and the conference between American oil men and Mexican officials. The supreme court's decision, which is construed here as positively defining article 27 of the constitution as non-retroactive, has not been published formally.

It is understood that the decision has not been placed in writing, although the ruling of the court was handed down August 30. The understanding is that the text of the decision will not be given out for another ten days and until that time legal authorities are withholding their opinions with regard to the exact pronouncements embraced in the decision.

The return to New York of the heads of five oil companies is expected here to result shortly in the publication of the detailed terms of the agreements between the oil men and the Mexican officials, which is construed as containing elements which will contribute to a speedy clearing of the international situation.

RECOGNITION OF THE MOSCOW SOVIET

Accorded in a Way by League of Nations.

Geneva, Sept. 5.—Tactful recognition of the Moscow soviet as the government power in Russia, was accorded by the league of nations, yesterday. The secretary general of the league gave notice that three treaties and one international agreement had been registered at league headquarters. The agreement mentioned was that negotiated between the Russian soviet trade delegation and the American relief administration. This was the first time that the soviet had been recognized by the league.

ROOT IS CALLED AT WHITE HOUSE

Has Long Conference with President Harding.

REFUSES TO DIVULGE NATURE OF INTERVIEW

President Plans 'for a Ten-Day Cruise Aboard the Mayflower. May Visit Bar Harbor.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Elihu Root, "the elder statesman" of the Republican party, whose name has been frequently mentioned as a possible representative of the United States at the coming armament-limitation conference, was an unexpected caller at the White House today.

Root arrived at the executive offices a few minutes after President Harding had reached his desk, soon after 9 o'clock and for more than an hour the two were closeted in conference. It was the first time the former secretary of state has been at the White House since President Harding has been in office.

Root was in a jovial humor after his lengthy conference with the president. He joked with newspaper correspondents, but steadfastly declined to divulge the purpose of his visit, or what he discussed with the president.

"It was a personal call," he said, when he emerged from the president's office.

"Rather a long personal call, an hour and a half, isn't it, senator?" asked a reporter.

"Oh, well," replied Root, smiling, "we talked about cabbages and kings." He declined to reveal, however, the identity of the possible cabbages and kings discussed. He said the coming armament conference had not entered into the conversation. "Politics, taxation and the qualities of the present administration were questions tabooed by the former secretary of state."

"Those are three matters I never discuss," he said. Root was informed by one reporter that a despatch saying that he had accepted a seat on the international court of justice, organized under the league of nations, for which he was nominated by five nations and refused to serve.

"You have an accomplished laborer over there," Root replied. "I have not accepted."

"They say they are going to draft you to serve, senator," interposed another.

"Is there any new extradition treaty by which they could accomplish it?" asked Root.

Following his visit to the president, Root was to see Secretary of State Hughes.

Root said he came to Washington in connection with the Carnegie peace-endowment fund and was taking advantage of the occasion to pay his respects to the administration.

One of the purposes of Root's visit to the president and the secretary of state was to work out details for the utilization by the government of the library and the international experts of the Carnegie endowment in connection with the conference of limitation of armaments.

The organization's large staff of international lawyers was placed at the disposal of the state department about a month ago. They will prepare monographs and compile data to be used by the American delegates to the conference.

Cruise in Mayflower.

Harding is contemplating a ten-day cruise on the yacht, Mayflower, between now and September 21, the date for the reassembling of congress. It was learned today.

The destination of the Mayflower, if the trip is made, will be Bar Harbor, Maine, where E. B. McLean, the Washington publisher, has a summer home.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Secretary of War Weeks said today, he had not yet heard from Henry Ford in reply to his letter of last Tuesday, suggesting a conference on the Muscle Shoals offer at Ford's convenience.

According to information received at the secretary's office, today, Ford and his son, Edsel, have been absent from Detroit several days on a visit to a mine owned by the Ford company.

Weeks expects to receive during the next two or three days the offer for the Muscle Shoals plant which C. E. James, of Chattanooga, is understood to be sending by mail.

London, Sept. 5.—Two noble British families entered the divorce court, today, when the Earl of Cathart filed suit against the Countess Cathart, naming the youthful Earl of Craven as correspondent. The papers in the case were filed today.

The Countess of Cathart refused to take the charges against her seriously. "I consider the whole affair a great joke," she said.

The young Earl of Craven succeeded to his title only a short time ago. He is the grandson of the late Bradley Martin, a New York multi-millionaire.

Before her marriage, the countess was the widow of Captain de Grey Warter, of the Fourth dragoon, Cape Town, South Africa, family.

These securities are to be sold at not less than par and were authorized for purposes of reorganization of the company's indebtedness and capitalization, for discharging, funding and refunding its obligations and for extensions and improvements.

The company, which informed the commission of its intention to reincorporate under the name of the Toledo Edison company, will be permitted to issue $1,500,000 in seven-percent, cumulative stock, $2,500,000 in eight-percent, cumulative preferred stock and $13,500,000 in seven-percent, twenty-year first mortgage gold bonds, due in 1941.

Will Not Secede.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—Likelihood that Bavaria will secede from the confederation of German states decreased today. The impression prevails that both sides are seeking a solution that will save their faces and there should be a decision by Saturday.

Columbus, Sept. 5.—Every week new infestations of the corn borer are found in Ohio. Traces have been located all along Lake Erie from the Pennsylvania line to Port Clinton, according to inspectors. The state is increasing its force of scouts and the federal government has 30 at work in Ohio. No damage to corn has been done so far in Ohio and the problem is one of control and prevention of the spread of the borer.

DRASTIC ECONOMY BRINGS ITS REWARD

Alameda, California, Reduces Tax Rate Thirty Cents.

Alameda, Calif., Sept. 5.—In face of the ever-mounting cost of government, this city has reduced its 1921-22 tax rate thirty cents, under a drastic economy more launched by C. E. Hiecock, city manager. This comes on top of a six-cent reduction in Alameda county taxes, yesterday. Taxes were reduced, duplication avoided and expenses reduced by the city manager, who reduced his own pay from $5,000 per annum to $4,500.

Coming as it does when other cities throughout the United States have been forced to raise their tax rates, Alameda points with pride to the fact that it is able to reduce the burden from $2.24 per $1,000 assessed valuation to $1.94. Few cities, if any, it was said here, have been able to reduce their tax rates.

DISCUSSING ENFORCEMENT

Haynes in Conference with Russell and Parker.

A MEETING BEING HELD IN COLUMBUS

Federal Commissioner Declares New York City Will Soon Be Dry—Other Dry Work.

Columbus, Sept. 5.—An important conference is being held here today between Roy A. Haynes, national prohibition commissioner, and J. E. Russell, federal commissioner for Ohio, and State Commissioner Parker.

Wayne B. Wheeler and state and national anti-liquor league officials had a conference with Governor Davis.

"There will be no medical beer," said Wheeler. "The enforcement bill to supplement the original Volstead act will come up for passage soon after the senate convenes Sept. 21. The delay in passing it was caused by a filibuster of a few wet senators. This filibuster, which is bolshievism applied to parliamentary procedure, was used to prevent the vote on this beer bill until after the recess in the hope that the wets would force the issuance of better beer regulations. The department's refusal to promulgate the regulations when it was apparent that both houses favored the bill is meeting with general approval."

Before entering the conference Haynes said: "It is my purpose to render all state directors every possible aid at the command of the Washington office."

He predicted that New York city would be bone dry soon, although he believes that obstacles to enforcement of law are in many instances greater there than elsewhere. "But there's going to be no spectacular campaign about it," Haynes said.

Russell issued an order requiring holders of old permits to make an accounting of liquor sold in the past and make application for new permits by Sept. 20. Also, he said, former agents of the department may not represent permit holders as counsel, calling attention to the law against the practice of law in the department. Issuance and revocation of permits, he pointed out, are administrative departmental affairs, and not subjects for attorneys to concern themselves with.

Russell recommended to the Washington office that the ban on the Highland county warehouse of Prohibition & Workmen, Cincinnati distillers, be lifted, inasmuch as the liquor stored there is the property of private individuals and not of the distillers.

J. C. Copelan of Athens was named chief of the permit division.

INVESTIGATES THE ESCAPE OF ROBBERS

Prosecutor Finds the Deputies Are Blunderers.

Toledo, Sept. 5.—County Prosecutor Roy Stuart announced that no criminal negligence on the part of deputy sheriffs in connection with the escape from the Lucas county jail of three men convicted of conspiracy in the million-dollar post-office robbery here last Feb. 17, has been found.

Prosecutor Stuart and Federal officers have been conducting an investigation in the escape of Joe Trubart, Charles Schmitt and George Lewis, alias Rogers. Eleven others convicted of the same offense, still are in the jail, some of them refusing to follow the three fugitives from behind the bars when the two deputies were knocked unconscious by a cot buckle suspended from a canvas belt.

The police and government operatives still are without a clue as to the whereabouts of the escaped prisoners.

NEW DRIVE STARTED ON WHISKY TRAFFIC

Great Haul of Liquor Is Made in New York History.

New York, Sept. 5.—A new drive on the whisky traffic of the United States, which is said to be centered here, was started yesterday, when federal prohibition officials arrived to "clean up New York."

Simultaneous with the arrival of the officials came the announcement that the biggest haul yet made by liquor agents had taken place with the capture of more than 15,000 cases of whisky, valued at more than $1,000,000. The whisky had been brought into the city on forged permits from Kentucky and Maryland distilleries.

A Driving Test.

Akron, Sept. 5.—M. D. Scott, Howard Sholder and Herbert Temple will leave here, September 20, in a six-wheel truck for Los Angeles. They will go to Springfield, Ohio, and then strike westward. A load of rubber heels will be carried and the trip will be an experiment as to the efficiency of pneumatic tires on trucks.

MEXICAN PROBLEM NEARING SOLUTION

Washington, Sept. 5.—President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes are well satisfied with the trend of events in the Mexican situation and the belief is growing in Washington that recognition of the Obregon government by the United States now is nearer than it has been at any time since the Harding administration came into power.

The settlement of difficulties between Obregon and the American oil producers, without the intervention of the state department, was pleasing to both the president and the secretary of state. In discussing the situation with callers recently, President Harding has spoken optimistically regarding the whole situation and has indicated clearly that he regards the Mexican problem as nearing solution.

PART OF ARMY SURRENDERED

Fighting Miners with High-Powered Rifles.

ENCAGED IN SIEGE OF NINETEEN MONTHS

Seventy-Five Men in Shabby Clothes, Unshaven and Grimy. Are Federal Prisoners.

Court House, Williamson, W. Va., Sept. 5.—Part of the "overall army" which has fortified itself in the hills on the Kentucky side of Tug river and with high-powered rifles laid siege to the West Virginia side for nineteen months, surrendered today to Major Thomas B. Davis, state military commander of Mingo county.

Seventy-five men—miners in shabby overalls, unshaven and grimy—were sitting on the ground at Burnwell, on the West Virginia-Kentucky state line near Merrimac as Major Davis, with squads of state police armed with revolvers and Springfield rifles drove up.

"Well, we're ready, general," announced their spokesman.

On command of Major Davis, they stood up, passed between lines of state troopers and with guards in front and rear marched on, prisoners of the state of West Virginia. They gave graphic description of the remarkable military operations of the overall army.

All its members are miners, they said. "An old fellow" commands the army in action, according to their story. He directs his forces with signals from a "cowhorn bugle."

"It's as loud as one of them fox horns," said one.

The army dug trenches in the hills and tore down age-old trees to build fortifications.

Its chief "battle front" has been a graveyard on a hilltop. Even here they have built fortifications and fired over the bodies of the dead.

From their "graveyard battlefield," they did their fiercest fighting last May, when for three days and nights the "army and the defenders of Merrimac" on the West Virginia side of the Tug river fought on a nine-mile front.

The army has guns with a shooting range of five miles. Where these were obtained the surrendered did not say. They declared, however, the army has enough ammunition to last "more'n two years."

According to the surrendered, the army's object has been to "shoot up" Merrimac, non-union stronghold across the river and "inside" Mingo county.

Both Fatally Wounded.

Cincinnati, Sept. 5.—"I'll get you tomorrow," were the parting words of Private Detective John Brady, twenty-nine, former patrolman, following a quarrel, yesterday, with Anthony Meserphol, thirty, saloon-keeper at Fifth and Eggleson. Brady went to Meserphol's place this morning and with only the bar between them, fought a pistol duel. Both men were fatally wounded.

FATALISTIC DEPRESSION

Pervades All the Stricken Area in Russia.

AN OBSERVER TELLS STORY OF FAMINE

Woman Returns from a 3,000-Mile Journey Through Cholera and Famine Zones.

Moscow, Sept. 8.—Bessie Beatty, of San Francisco, noted feminist and an authority on Russia, has just returned from a 3,000-mile round trip to the Samara famine area and today gave the International News service her impressions. Miss Beatty, who was formerly a newspaper writer in San Francisco and Los Angeles, made the long journey in a special train as a fellow passenger of M. Kallin, president of the Soviet government committee investigating the famine and plague.

"Samara is the heart of the famine area," she said. "Conditions are better the farther south one goes. In Astrakhan and Tsaritzin vegetables, fruit and fish somewhat relieve the food shortage.

"There is no panic anywhere, though great crowds are thronging Samara, eager to get out of that area. A fatalistic depression prevades all the stricken area.

"M. Kallin said repeatedly, 'Many of these unfortunates are sure to die.'

"Peasants who heard him answered, 'Yes we shall die.'

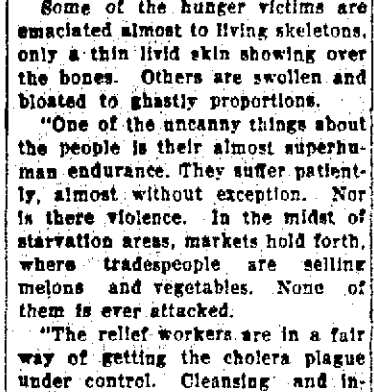

Some of the hunger victims are emaciated almost to living skeletons, only a thin livid skin showing over the bones. Others are swollen and bloated to ghastly proportions.

"One of the uncanny things about the people is their almost superhuman endurance. They suffer patiently, almost without exception. Nor is there violence. In the midst of starvation areas, markets hold forth, where tradespeople are selling melons and vegetables. None of them is ever attacked.

"The relief workers are in a fair way of getting the cholera plague under control. Cleansing and inoculating campaigns are being carried on everywhere. Consequently a drop in the number of cases already is recorded."

[BY ANNA LOUISE STRONG.]

Enroute from Moscow to the Samara Famine Area, Sept. 8.—Before leaving Moscow I had an exclusive interview with Miss Margaret Thorpe of the American Society of

SABBACK'S MOTHER IS COMING FROM DAMASCUS

And Will Make Home with Sons in Ohio.

N. E. Sabback, who runs the soft drink and confectionery stand across from the interurban station, received a letter Saturday from his sister, stating that she in company with her mother would sail from the port of Marseilles, France, about the 4th of this month for New York, says yesterday's Bucyrus Telegraph. They had been delayed at Marseilles for twelve days during which time the boat was being overhauled. Mrs. Sabback and her daughter are journeying from their home in Damascus, Syria, to make their home with N. E. Sabback, on West Mansfield street, whom they have not seen for twenty-one years.

Mr. Sabback is expecting a telegram the latter part of the week announcing that they have arrived in New York where either he or his brother at Marion will meet them. Seven brothers are already in this country, a number of whom have been engaged in business here.

SOLDIERS GATHER AT MANSFIELD REUNION

Sherman's Brigade and 102d Regiment, O. V. I.

The first of the two days' sessions of the fifty-fifth annual reunion of the Sherman brigade and the thirty-ninth annual reunion of the 102d regiment, O. V. I., members of both being in attendance from Marion, were held in the Memorial hall at Mansfield Wednesday. The sessions will close today.

Many of the members of both bodies are well advanced in years and a large number of them have died since the last reunion.

The brigade, which was organized by Senator John Sherman, is composed of the McLaughlin Squadron, O. V. I., the Sixth O. V. I. Battery, the Sixty-Fourth and Sixty-Fifth O. V. I., and the men who volunteered for service during the civil war were recruited from Richland, Ashland and nearby counties.

The president of the association, Charles Walters, of Lima, a member of the McLaughlin Squadron, who was elected for four years, died last year and Henry Bilsing, of Crestline, first vice president, is acting president at the sessions.

The meeting of the 102d regiment is being presided over by its president, J. L. Hoff, of Mansfield. A banquet and camp fire were held Wednesday evening. This regiment was recruited in the Fourteenth congressional district, composing the counties of Richland, Ashland, Wayne and Huron. This is the first reunion for two years, none being held last year on account of illness among the comrades.

CHURCH SOCIETY

Special Festival Service.

Next Sunday Emanuel's Lutheran congregation will hold a special festival service to commemorate the third anniversary of the dedication of their new church. The morning worship will be held at 10:30 o'clock. The festival sermon will be preached by Rev. S. Hunsicker, of Pomroy. The entire service with all of the music and singing will be of a festival character fitting to the occasion. Emanuel's choir will render "The Earth Is the Lord's," by Rogers. A vocal duet will be rendered by Mrs. George Turner and Mr. William Ackerman, Jr. The entire congregation is making extensive preparations to make this a beautiful and impressive service.

The evening worship will be held at 7:30 o'clock. This service also will be a festival character. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Mr. Hunsicker. Emanuel's choir will render "Lord, I Have Loved the Habitation of Thy House," by Torrance. The beautiful Emanuel's church, on south Prospect street, which was built during the troublesome war times, was dedicated three years ago on September 8. On the same day also the Calvary church, on east Church street, was dedicated. Two of the most beautiful houses of worship in the city being dedicated on the same day, made that a day long to be remembered by the people of Marion.

At that time the building of Emanuel's church was supposed by many to be quite a heavy undertaking for the Lutherans of the city. The united and continued efforts of Emanuel's people have, however, reduced the indebtedness on the new property, until now only about one-fourth of the original cost remains to be paid. The offering to be raised at these festival services next Sunday will be applied to this indebtedness. Rev. J. W. Schilling, the pastor, announces.

First United Brethren Church.
At the regular monthly meeting of the official board of the First United Brethren church, Tuesday evening, splendid reports were made by the officials, the usual business was transacted and a motion was unanimously supported that the delegate to conference be instructed to ask for the return of Dr. O. F. Laughbaum to the Marion pastorate. The conference will convene at Bucyrus Wednesday, September 14.

After the adjournment of the official board, the local board of trustees reorganized by electing M. L. McDaniel, president; B. K. Hill, secretary, and J. C. Holtshouse, treasurer.

Royal Banner Class.

The Royal Banner class of Fife Memorial church, met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. A. E. White, No. 567 Merkle avenue. The meeting was well attended and a program, including a solo and two duets, and two recitals and a reading was given. This was followed by a social hour.

Salem Harmonic Society.

Mrs. Frank Paddock, of south Prospect street, was hostess to the members of the Harmonic society, of the Salem Evangelical church, at her home Wednesday afternoon. The attendance was large and aside from the routine business it was decided to hold a birthday party with Mrs. William Albrecht, of Belmont street, September 23. Following the business session a social time was enjoyed.

Fife Memorial B. V. P. U.

The members of the B. V. P. U. of Fife Memorial Baptist church, met Tuesday evening in the church parlors with a good attendance. Plans were made for a play to be given in the near future to make money for the union. It was also decided to sell calendars this year. During the evening piano numbers were given by Misses Olive Brobeck, Alberta Peach and Pearl Tuttle and Miss Ruth Lumberson contributed a reading.

Lillian Stevens W. C. T. U.

Mrs. J. M. Newby was elected president at the meeting of Lillian Stevens, W. C. T. U. Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. P. W. Fetter, of east Center street. Other officers are Mrs. E. W. Warwick, vice president; Mrs. Scott E. Irey, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Miller, recording secretary; Mrs. A. E. Gillen, treasurer. Mrs. A. L. Wood contributed a vocal number during the afternoon. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Miller, of east Center street when the department superintendents will be appointed.

Home of Salem.

The Sons of Salem, of the Salem Evangelical Sunday-school, met in the Sunday school room Wednesday evening with nearly all members present. After the business session games and contests were enjoyed. First honors going to Nelson Reiff and the consolation trophy to Walter Hittenrauch.

Ruby Rothfus and Walter Hittenrauch were guests.

Spiritualist Church.

The First Spiritualist church will resume its meetings Sunday at its hall, No. 171 1-2 north Main street, with services at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Elizabeth Schaus, of Toledo, the state president, will speak Sunday night.

Anna Gordon W. C. T. U.

The following officers were elected at the meeting of the Anna Gordon W. C. T. U. Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Miss Etta Smith, of south State street: Mrs. Harry Fisher, president; Miss Etta Smith, vice president; Mrs. Anna Oglesbee, recording secretary; Mrs. D. F. Millisor, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. K. Brown, treasurer. Mrs. William Rhoads and Miss Etta Smith entertained the company with a pleasing piano duet.

Will Become Evangelist.

Rev. J. G. Turner, pastor on Oceola circuit, of the U. B. church, which includes several stations, and who has been a resident of Oceola the past two years, will retire from his present pastorate at the close of the conference year next Sunday, preaching his last sermon at Benton, charge at 10 a. m. Sunday and at Oceola church at 7 p. m. Sunday. He has notified his people that he does not expect to return to the charge for the next conference year.

Rev. Mr. Turner's plan is to take up evangelistic work, and he has submitted his request to the coming conference for an assignment to that work. He hopes to be so situated that he and Mrs. Turner can return to Bucyrus, their former home, to reside, joining other members of their family who have retained their residence there.

U. B. Conference.

Rev. John F. Miller, of Fostoria, former Bucyrus pastor, who, after leaving Bucyrus, spent several years in general evangelistic work, will preach the opening sermon at the convening of the Sandusky conference of the United Brethren church at Bucyrus Tuesday evening, September 13.

The full program of the conference has been printed and distributed to the members. On Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock Bishop Clippinger, of Dayton, the new bishop of the conference, who succeeded Bishop Matthews, deceased, will deliver his opening address.

One of the features of the conference will be the presence of Dr. J. E. Shannon, of Marion, Indiana, secretary of the general evangelistic committee, who will deliver two sermons. Dr. Shannon is known in this and other conferences as a particularly forceful and interesting speaker and his presence will add interest to the sessions.

It is understood that the arrangements have so far progressed that all the delegates will be comfortably taken care of without the committee having to make any unusual effort.

Located at Bucyrus.

Rev. S. W. Young, of the Presbyterian church, has arrived in Bucyrus and will make that city his home, locating at No. 215 Wallace avenue. Rev. Mr. Young is a spiritual evangelist; superintending Home Mission work in the presbyteries of Wooster, Marion and Lima and selects Bucyrus as a place of residence because it is fairly central in his field of work. He found there an old acquaintance and friend in the person of Rev. Curtis E. Shields.

Rev. Mr. Young's family includes a son who is a student at Wooster college and who is president of the college Y. M. C. A. there, and a daughter who is engaged in mission work in Persia. He was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church at Savannah.

Loyal Friends Elect.

The Loyal Friends Sunday-school class, of the Central Christian church, met last night in the church parlors. New officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Miss Margaret Johnson, president; Miss Victoria Jackson, vice president; Miss Helen Holland, secretary, and Miss Dorothy Buckner, treasurer. The territory occupied by this district reaches from Marion north to Saginaw, Michigan east to Cleveland and west to Fort Wayne. Each of these parishes will be represented at the convention by its pastor and one lay delegate. A number of professors and parish-school teachers will also be in attendance.

The convention of the Northern district will be opened on the morning of October 5 in Emanuel's church on south Prospect street. The president Rev. H. P. Danneker, of Fort Wayne, will conduct all of the sessions. Rev. M. L. Friedrich, of Detroit, is the German secretary, and Rev. J. W. Schillinger, of this city, the English secretary. During the week of the convention all of the forenoon sessions will be devoted to doctrinal discussions. A series of essays will be furnished by members of the synod who have been appointed for that purpose, which will form the basis for these discussions. The afternoon sessions will be devoted to business matters. The parochial educational mission, and the work of the district will be given ample consideration.

On each evening during the entire week and also on Sunday morning festival services will be held. On all of these occasions the pulpit of Emanuel's church will be occupied by visiting pastors. The members of Emanuel's congregation will lodge the members of the synod in their homes, and meals will be served for them in the basement of the church. Trinity and St. Paul's Lutheran churches of Marion county are assisting Emanuel's church in this work of entertaining the convention.

On Friday evening during this convention Emanuel's choir will render a sacred cantata entitled "Faith" by Alfred Gaul.

All services and sessions of this convention will be open to the public.

IF ADVERTISING STOPPED.

"What would be the reaction upon the cost of living if advertising ceased and its beneficent force were stopped?" This question, asked by the Fourth Estate, provides much food for rumination.

It is an interesting conjecture. Advertising largely takes the place of personal selling effort, which is very much more expensive.

A California editor cogitating on the possibility of a cessation of advertising says:

"It would mean that our railroad trains would be thronged with salesmen whose homeward bound mail would carry fewer orders, all of smaller volume than now.

"Distribution upon the present scale would be impossible. Manufacturing would fall off, with a consequent decrease in labor demand. Jobbers would find their business proportionally limited. Retailers would make fewer and slower turnovers. Prices of all commodities would take a rise that would make war prices and anti-war prices seem low by comparison."

THE HUB OF COMMERCE.

Daily Proverb—"There is little peace in that house where the hen crows and the cock is mute."

It isn't much of a trick to make a fountain pen that doesn't leak—provided it is never filled.

While congress has decided that home brew may pass legal muster, it doesn't guarantee that the consumer can long survive the use of it.

Bill Haywood may have inherited a fortune, as reported, but it's going to take the edge of the enjoyment of it somewhat to serve twenty years in prison before getting a chance to spend it.

In this day and age, one is supposed to be prepared for just about any old theory, but we frankly confess that that of the fellows who claim that the quail has to be made food for the shotgun to enable it to thrive as we go along.

The Russians must find it just a bit annoying to wheel around a cart load of their money every time they want to buy a ham sandwich.

Mrs. Harrison and Senator France do not appear to have seen Russia alike, but, then, Mrs. Harrison went to see conditions in Russia as they are, not as pictured by Lenin and Trotsky.

Why all this comment over the discovery of that "giant astral body" twenty times bigger than the sun? Even at that, it isn't more than a speck in the eternal scheme of things celestial.

The hairdressers now hold that it will not be imminent for the girls to show their ears. Considering the magnitude of the present exhibition, it probably would never be noticed.

When some of these self-constituted reformers for revenue only set about to organize a campaign against tea drinking, we are going to sit up and take notice.

If this auto bandit business grows much more common decent travelers will soon have to devise some method of advertising themselves as desirous to bar the possibility of becoming objects of suspicion.

It may be taken as a rule without the customary exception that the woman to whom her friends refer as "well-rounded" unquestionably is.

Another thing not worth worrying about is the fact that the boot-leggers are proliferating. It wouldn't hurt the general batting average of the joy of living if they made their prices prohibitive.

IT'S YOURS.

You are worth $27,350,000 in your own right. The millions are in gold, the hundred thousands in silver. It is in the safest place in the world—so safe, alas, that not even you can probably ever obtain it. But it is yours, nevertheless, your heritage from all time, and a part of your immutable birthright.

Yet do not boast. You are still no better off than your neighbors. Each one of them, man, woman and child, has a like amount in keeping. The treasure house is in the sea, that old mother of mystery. The gold and silver held in suspension in its waters would provide $27,000,000 in gold for every human inhabitant of the earth, and $350,000 in silver.

This estimate is made by a man of science, Professor A. Bergetz of France. He has some other interesting things to disclose, as well. The salt in the sea, the measure of spread out evenly over the entire surface of the globe, would cover it 150 feet deep. Thus all buildings under fifteen stories high would be buried. The continent of Europe would be under three times over out of salt. With its Pyrenees, Pirenees and Alps mountain ranges.

Most of us would not want to have lost its savor in such a deluge. The gold and silver, too, wouldn't be of much use if they were equally a part of it. But if the thought of your share of the riches when time has stolen in the high seas, the aquatic No Man's land, gives you joy, then indulge it to the full. But don't let the wealth go to your head. And remember that although the riches of the sea may never be yours, the fertile, smiling land may still be forced to yield its faithful bounty to your industry.

THE RETORT COURTEOUS.

I get the retort courteous from an anonymous correspondent. The communication is postmarked "Chicago," and is called out by the following circumstances:

The Greenville, South Carolina, Piedmont remarked:

"War does not pay, but it makes everybody pay."

And I replied:

Makes everybody pay—

Well, how about the Germans—

Hey?

Here's the retort, or response, of my anonymous correspondent—metrically expressed:

"War does not pay!"

Ask Pierpont Morgan, say, And Dupont and et cetera! Why, they can't get enough Of the war stuff!

In fact, England's fiscal agent, Morgan, started the bloody pageant. Because it pays! No other reason! To h—ll with treason! Hey?"

So now I've learned, at this late date, that Germany didn't start the World war; and that Austria had nothing whatever to do in the case. These two countries were as innocent of international offense, as new-born babes or cooling doves of peace. England did it all—and did it through the secret and merciless machinations of her "fiscal agent," Pierpont Morgan. And why did England do it? Oh, to deplete her exchequer and lessen her population, of course! Sounds reasonable, doesn't it? And Dupont was in the background playing "Blackie Dawes" to Morgan's "J. Rufus Wallingford."

Say! What kind of mind and morals can a man have who believes, or pretends to believe, such rot as that suggested by my anonymous correspondent? Surely his wife has become stale; and the milk of human kindness in his soul has gone sour.

However, I heartily agree with the mis-quoted light when he trifely, but trenchantly says: "To h—ll with treason!"

So, presuming to make a parody on Joaquin Miller's words, I would simply close by remarking:

In men whose wife men would exchange, I find so much of ignorance— So much of prejudice and spleen— So much of envy, low and mean! In men whom men regard as dense— I find so much of common sense— So much of trust, so much of love, So much of good from God above, I hesitate to mark the spot Between the man whose God has rot—

So, presuming to make a parody on Joaquin Miller's words, I would simply close by remarking:

In men whose wife men would exchange, I find so much of ignorance— So much of prejudice and spleen— So much of envy, low and mean! In men whom men regard as dense— I find so much of common sense— So much of trust, so much of love, So much of good from God above, I hesitate to mark the spot Between the man whose God has rot—

A word to the otherwise is wasted. It's a poor writer that escapes criticism. Photographs have injured the market for parrots.

Wisdom is always known by the company it keeps out of.

Elderly gentlemen seem to have a penchant for young ladies.

The man who marries nowadays usually finds himself wedded to art.

It's a poor brand of virtue that goes around seeking temptations.

Why does it take two to make a quartet if a man and his wife are one?

Don't believe all a man says about his neighbor, or half he says about himself.

Some men who don't seem to know when they are whipped, doubtless are suspicious.

Why does it never occur to a boy that he will some day know as little as his father?

A girl's frame of mind has less to do with her reflections than the frame that holds her mirror.

Why is marriage always such a surprise to a pair of lovers who think that they understand each other thoroughly?

The average man is always wondering what others think of him and the chances are the others never give him a thought.

Vices are among the oldest things on record and yet history chronicles the loss of not a single one.

Should a man contemplate drowning himself he should make the attempt in shallow water, so that he can wade out when he changes his mind.

Daily Proverb—"There is little peace in that house where the hen crows and the cock is mute."

It isn't much of a trick to make a fountain pen that doesn't leak—provided it is never filled.

While congress has decided that home brew may pass legal muster, it doesn't guarantee that the consumer can long survive the use of it.

Bill Haywood may have inherited a fortune, as reported, but it's going to take the edge of the enjoyment of it somewhat to serve twenty years in prison before getting a chance to spend it.

In this day and age, one is supposed to be prepared for just about any old theory, but we frankly confess that that of the fellows who claim that the quail has to be made food for the shotgun to enable it to thrive as we go along.

The Russians must find it just a bit annoying to wheel around a cart load of their money every time they want to buy a ham sandwich.

Mrs. Harrison and Senator France do not appear to have seen Russia alike, but, then, Mrs. Harrison went to see conditions in Russia as they are, not as pictured by Lenin and Trotsky.

Why all this comment over the discovery of that "giant astral body" twenty times bigger than the sun? Even at that, it isn't more than a speck in the eternal scheme of things celestial.

The hairdressers now hold that it will not be imminent for the girls to show their ears. Considering the magnitude of the present exhibition, it probably would never be noticed.

When some of these self-constituted reformers for revenue only set about to organize a campaign against tea drinking, we are going to sit up and take notice.

If this auto bandit business grows much more common decent travelers will soon have to devise some method of advertising themselves as desirous to bar the possibility of becoming objects of suspicion.

It may be taken as a rule without the customary exception that the woman to whom her friends refer as "well-rounded" unquestionably is.

Another thing not worth worrying about is the fact that the boot-leggers are proliferating. It wouldn't hurt the general batting average of the joy of living if they made their prices prohibitive.

IF ADVERTISING STOPPED.

"What would be the reaction upon the cost of living if advertising ceased and its beneficent force were stopped?" This question, asked by the Fourth Estate, provides much food for rumination.

It is an interesting conjecture. Advertising largely takes the place of personal selling effort, which is very much more expensive.

A California editor cogitating on the possibility of a cessation of advertising says:

"It would mean that our railroad trains would be thronged with salesmen whose homeward bound mail would carry fewer orders, all of smaller volume than now.

"Distribution upon the present scale would be impossible. Manufacturing would fall off, with a consequent decrease in labor demand. Jobbers would find their business proportionally limited. Retailers would make fewer and slower turnovers. Prices of all commodities would take a rise that would make war prices and anti-war prices seem low by comparison."

THE RETORT COURTEOUS.

I get the retort courteous from an anonymous correspondent. The communication is postmarked "Chicago," and is called out by the following circumstances:

The Greenville, South Carolina, Piedmont remarked:

"War does not pay, but it makes everybody pay."

And I replied:

Makes everybody pay—

Well, how about the Germans—

Hey?

Here's the retort, or response, of my anonymous correspondent—metrically expressed:

"War does not pay!"

Ask Pierpont Morgan, say, And Dupont and et cetera! Why, they can't get enough Of the war stuff!

In fact, England's fiscal agent, Morgan, started the bloody pageant. Because it pays! No other reason! To h—ll with treason! Hey?"

So now I've learned, at this late date, that Germany didn't start the World war; and that Austria had nothing whatever to do in the case. These two countries were as innocent of international offense, as new-born babes or cooling doves of peace. England did it all—and did it through the secret and merciless machinations of her "fiscal agent," Pierpont Morgan. And why did England do it? Oh, to deplete her exchequer and lessen her population, of course! Sounds reasonable, doesn't it? And Dupont was in the background playing "Blackie Dawes" to Morgan's "J. Rufus Wallingford."

Say! What kind of mind and morals can a man have who believes, or pretends to believe, such rot as that suggested by my anonymous correspondent? Surely his wife has become stale; and the milk of human kindness in his soul has gone sour.

However, I heartily agree with the mis-quoted light when he trifely, but trenchantly says: "To h—ll with treason!"

So, presuming to make a parody on Joaquin Miller's words, I would simply close by remarking:

In men whose wife men would exchange, I find so much of ignorance— So much of prejudice and spleen— So much of envy, low and mean! In men whom men regard as dense— I find so much of common sense— So much of trust, so much of love, So much of good from God above, I hesitate to mark the spot Between the man whose God has rot—

CONQUESTS OF CUPID FOR PRESENT SUMMER SEASON

They Outnumber Those of Past Years, Records Show.

The nuptial season has been increased to include August and September as equally popular months as June and October for marriages and engagements, according to the record of the last few weeks and the calendar for the present month which deeply concerns the bride and the festivities attendant upon her.

In fact, the late summer months promise to be rivals of the spring season with the usual long list for June as the climax for a number of the more prominent weddings and betrothals have occurred recently or are scheduled within the weeks of the near future.

Like late August, it is expected that September is to be prominent as a month of weddings and the past week especially has found the recent and prospective brides engaged in their invitation lists as the objects of pre-nuptial and post-nuptial entertaining.

It is doubtful if any previous summer has boasted so many interesting conquests of Cupid that have kept watchful recipients of some choice bit of news ever on the alert for the daily surprise.

WORLD WAR VETERANS' BURIAL PLOT DONATED

By Marion Cemetery Association, It's Announced.

DWIGHT WELLS ARTIS' BODY TO BE REBURIED

To Lie in State at Court-House. Interred Armistice Day in "Honor Triangle."

Donation of a triangular burial plot in the southeast part of the Marion cemetery by the Marion Cemetery association has made it possible to hold a military funeral on the morning of Armistice day, November 11, for Dwight Wells Artis, World War veteran, who was buried in the city's field here some months ago.

The executive committee of McGinnis Post, No. 162, American Legion, this morning met with the cemetery association board and formally accepted the burial plot.

Artis, who was nineteen years of age, died in Marion January 6 after an illness of typhoid fever and heart trouble.

At Depew Home
The young man died at the home of Elmer Depew, No. 777 Roma street. It is said that the young man was in mid-ocean with his company when the armistice was signed. At the time of the funeral his father, John Artis of Highland, Illinois and a brother, John Artis, Jr., of Bay Bridge, Ohio, were in Marion. Neither was financially able to purchase a lot for the burial of the boy or to take the body home. The father was almost blind at the time of the funeral.

Some time ago the funeral agitation was started for the securing of a burial plot for burial of penniless World War veterans and Miss Clara Ruchman, of No. 189 west Church street, offered to start a fund for that purpose with a subscription of $25. She also suggested that any money that might be raised in excess of the amount to be used for the purchase of the plot be expended in the purchase of a monument and as an endowment to provide for the placing of headstones at the graves of veterans buried in the plot.

Not Necessary Now.
Action of the cemetery association in donating a plot for the burial of any World War veteran whose relatives so desire, makes it unnecessary for the raising of money for this purpose. The plot will be used for the burial of World War veterans exclusively.

Located in a beautiful spot in the cemetery, the plot provides an ideal burial ground for World War veterans. There will be ample shade and a place has been provided for the erection of a suitable monument to mark the burial ground and the plot is sufficiently large for the requirements of the veterans.

Preliminary plans for the disinterment and burial of Artis provide that the body be taken from the potter's field Thursday, November 10.

Will Lie in State.
The body will lie in state in the corridor at the court-house the night of November 10 with a military guard in charge.

Tentative arrangements also provide for the holding of funeral services at the court-house at 11 o'clock on the morning of November 11, the hour when the armistice ending hostilities in the World War became effective three years ago. This service will be in charge of a Marion minister and the legion eulogy will be read by a member of the local post. Following this service the body will be taken to the plot in Marion cemetery and the services at the grave will be conducted by the chaplain of McGinnis post.
